

Back from the dead?

An evening with Ian McCormack – he died, but lived to tell the tale

New Zealand born Ian McCormack was declared clinically dead after being stung by five deadly box jellyfish. He came back to life just as the surgeon was about to perform the autopsy, and was so deeply impacted by his experiences while dead, that he now travels the world sharing his story. Come and hear him re-live the night he died.

Admission Free!

Saturday 10th November, 7.30pm, Bishopshalt School, Royal Lane, UB8 3RF

This event is hosted by The Crown Church, which meets every Sunday, 10am at Bishopshalt School. For further information contact 01895 233466 office@crown-church.org.uk www.crown-church.org.uk

thecrownchurch

